

What it's all about

By PAUL ALLEN

WHAT WOULD YOU DO IF

your wife, your son and yourself were upset from a canoe and in danger of drowning? Recent news tells of one unfortunate man who faced that dilemma, and came ashore with his son. His wife was drowned before he could get back to her. Many men would give many answers to the profound problem that man faced. This writer's opinion is that any normal man would seek to save the person NEAREST to him, provided they were both beloved members of his family. There is no time in sudden disaster to pick and choose. Brave men instinctively do what is nearest to hand.

THIS WRITER ONCE HAD the experience of being upset from a canoe. It happened that my fiancée was in the same craft—and went out at the same time. Of course, there was no choice in that case. I rescued the girl. That is, I would have rescued her if she hadn't got ashore so quickly by herself. Since then the two of us got married. Now we don't go into canoes any more.

IT'S A FINE CAMPAIGN UNDERTAKEN by the American Automobile Association to clear ugly signs from the roadsides of America. Some of these signs are a positive danger to travel. One sort that is particularly offensive reads: "Dangerous Curve Ahead—Use Uno Wott."

The "dangerous" curve usually doesn't exist. That causes drivers to lose confidence in all signs. Result: Danger on the road. No one but civil authorities should be permitted to post a warning sign of any sort.

THIS DEPARTMENT FAVORS PUTTING a few more signs all along the roads, as well as taking away the objectionable ones. The entrance to every town and city should be plainly marked by the authorities. There is no reason why tourists should have to depend upon a tire company for such information. Unmarked roads were not bad in the days when no one traveled more than fifteen miles from home in a day. Then it was a pleasure to stop and ask the way. Now it is too much of a delay. Chances are that the fellow you ask won't know any more about it than you do, and that he'll send you away in the wrong direction.

THE LUST TO SET FIRES IS a form of insanity that, fortunately for the public, is usually detected. That is because the firebug gets no kick out of his terrible actions unless he SEES the flames. The unfortunate boy firebug in Brooklyn actually looked for praise from the police because he had given the alarm for five fires. If murderers bragged as easily as pyromaniacs the Hall-Mills case would have solved itself years ago.

10,000 Wait To See Rudy

(Continued from page 3)

spectacle of this city's mob history. Pitched battles and rioting, women pulling each other's hair, men punching and mauling—all fighting madly to be first to see Rudy.

Reserves were called. Mounted policemen clattered up. A blue-coat line, their backs to windows, fought to keep order.

A frock-coated attendant paused with his hand on the doorknob. Taking this as a signal that admission would follow, the crowd surged forward.

Swept backward by the terrific power of uncontrollable thousands the frantic cops were shoved through a 10 by 16 plate glass window. Many inside were cut as they rushed to the rear. And in after them came the mob.

Flappers screamed defiance as they scrambled over a window sill and dashed into the parlor, glancing wildly about for Valentino's bier. Older women collapsed. Many were trampled under foot.

More police came. Nightsticks clouted bobbing heads. A mounted officer rode with Cossack yells into the rioters. Funeral parlor attaches, reporters and camera men aided in ejecting intruders.

When the sidewalk was again cleared nearly 100 persons, mostly women, were among the casualties. Lacerations, sprinted ankles, cuts and bruises, shock—those were the complaints.

Hospitals Send Aid

Crews came from Bellevue and Knickerbocker hospitals. Emergency first-aid stations were established in Campbell's and at nearby stores. Bandages were strewn about, and an odor of liniment filled the air.

Then a heavy rain began. This failed to thin the crowd. Still they came. Another attempt to rush the doors were checked. At 3 o'clock a man with a megaphone announced that Valentino would be on view soon.

BOY KILLED BY BUS NEAR HOME; DRIVER LOCKED UP

Henry Cuizio, 4, of 409 15th St., East New York, N. J., died today from injuries caused when he was run down by a bus near his home. Frank Straub of 50 Ravine Road, Jersey City, the driver, was arrested on a technical charge of manslaughter.

Mauch Chunk and return $2.50

NEXT SUNDAY and SEPTEMBER 5
Lv. N.Y. West 23rd St., 7:17 AM. Returning
Liberty St., 7:30 AM. Leave
J.C. Jackson Ave., 7:48 AM. Mauch Chunk
Newark, 7:45 AM. 4:40 PM.
Add One Hour for Daylight Time

Philadelphia and return $3.25

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 2
TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7
Sesqui-Centennial Exposition
Lv. N.Y. W. 23rd St., 6:45 AM. Returning
Liberty St., 7:00 AM. Leave
J.C. Jackson Ave., 7:19 AM. Philadelphia
Newark, 7:02 AM. 8:00 PM.
Add One Hour for Daylight Time

Lake Hopatcong and return $1.75

EVERY SUNDAY
Lv. N.Y. West 23rd St., 7:17 AM. Returning
Liberty St., 7:40 AM. Leave
J.C. Jackson Ave., 7:58 AM. Lake Hopatcong
Newark, 7:45 AM. 4:00 PM.
Add One Hour for Daylight Time
Tickets good only on special train data for which issued

NEW JERSEY CENTRAL

GIRLS--BEAUTY CULTURE

SPECIAL FULL COURSE $50
Manicuring $5. INSTRUMENTS FREE.
AMERICA'S ONLY BEAUTY SCHOOL WITH EMPLOYMENT AGENCY COMBINED. POSI-TIONS GUARANTEED OR MONEY REFUND-ED. EASY PAYMENTS. DAYS, EVENINGS.
ADAMS & ADAMS 1482 B'way (42nd)
BRYANT 3120

Hudson Bay Fur Co.

No connection with the Hudson's Bay Co. of Canada

Lowest Prices
or Money Back

662 Sixth Avenue

Bet. 38th
& 39th Sts.

2 Yr. Guarantee
Free Storage

The Sensation of New York SAMPLE COAT SALE

To First 56 Women

Squirrel Trimmed
Mink Trimmed
Skunk Trimmed

This Coat $115

This Coat $115

Caracul
Beaver
Coney
Marmot Trimmed

This Coat $115

This Coat $115

August Sale
Price
$115 values much more

$50 to $125 for Your Old Fur Coat

Our Average Allowance

No matter how worn your old coat is, bring it to our store, select any beautiful coat you desire and give us your old coat as a deposit in exchange and get an allowance of up to $125 for it.

MARMOT TRIMMED

Beautiful new model featuring the season's most popular trimming. Extra large collar and cuffs. To morrow only.

$125

Every Woman Should Trade in Her Old Fur Coat.

SAMPLE COATS

$69

MENDOZA BEAVER
(Dyed Coney)

SEAL WITH SQUIRREL
CONEY
(dyed coney)

SEAL WITH SQUIRREL
(dyed coney)

GEN. SKUNK TR. SEAL
(dyed coney)

MUSKRAT CONEY

LOWEST PRICES
IN NEW YORK
GUARANTEED

$145

Mink Marmot
Eastern mink marmot cannot be distinguished from mink garments costing $2,000. Our greatest mink marmot bargain

SQUIRREL TRIMMED

This beautiful model has large collar and cuffs of genuine squirrel and is elegantly lined.

$125

Every Woman Should Trade in Her Old Fur Coat.

SAMPLE COATS

$150

PERSIAN PAW

SILVER MUSKRAT

BRONZE CARACUL

NATURAL MUSKRAT

MINK TRIM'D SEAL
(dyed coney)

MENDOZA BEAVER
(dyed coney)

$5

DEPOSIT
HOLDS YOUR PURCHASE

THRU That they steal at against Jo terday. T
Lettie, 9 a

ITT